

THE
RESILIENCE PROJECT

CORPORATE PROGRAM

The Resilience Project delivers emotionally engaging presentations and wellbeing programs to build resilience and positive mental health in the workplace.

Through storytelling and behaviour-change communications, the Corporate Program shares practical and evidence-based strategies to manage wellbeing, both in the work environment, and with family and friends.

We walk through the research, share personal experiences, and offer solutions for incorporating resilience strategies into day to day life.

The Resilience Project has two programs available to support organisations on their employee wellbeing journey. Starting with Discovering Resilience, this program focuses on the key research-backed pillars to resilience: gratitude, empathy and mindfulness (GEM).

For organisations wishing to explore more, the Authentic Connection presentation is offered; sharing strategies and benefits of connection, vulnerability and leading wellbeing.

Throughout both options, additional complementing wellbeing practices are explored including; emotional literacy, exercise, sleep, healthy eating and managing devices. Connected Parenting workshops are also available.

PROGRAM OUTCOMES

The presentations, communications and action-oriented resources, are designed to:

- Provide practical and evidence-based strategies to practice on a daily basis
- Assist staff to deal with stress and difficult situations
- Improve overall wellbeing and connection to self and others
- Support behaviour change and long-term adoption of strategies

Programs are offered in a range of options to allow workplaces to integrate The Resilience Project at varying depths. We provide touch points across a whole organisation; from large-scale presentations and digital wellbeing campaigns, to peer learning sessions and leadership support.

THE RESEARCH

1 in 5 adults will experience mental health problems this year. Prevention is key to proactively building happy and healthy minds – reducing the burden of mental ill-health for both the individual, and a business’s bottom line.

Research by Beyond Blue and PricewaterhouseCoopers found that every dollar spent creating a mentally healthy workplace has an average return on investment of 2.3.<sup>1</sup>

GRATITUDE

Gratitude is being thankful and expressing appreciation for what one has – as opposed to focusing on the lack of something, or emphasising the ‘wants’ that society and consumerism can project onto us.<sup>2</sup> Research shows that practicing gratitude rewires our brains to overcome the negativity bias (which can lead to anxiety and depression) and see the world for what we are thankful for. It is also shown to broaden thinking, and increase physical health through improved sleep and attitude to exercise.

EMPATHY

Empathy is the ability to understand another person’s thoughts and feelings from their perspective.<sup>3</sup> Research shows that practicing empathy such as performing acts of kindness, taps into our brain’s ‘mirror neurons’, builds compassion and our behaviour becomes more social and community-based.<sup>4</sup> “Brain imaging data shows that being kind to others registers in the brain as more like eating chocolate than like fulfilling an obligation to do what’s right (e.g., eating brussel sprouts).”<sup>5</sup> It’s also shown that “80% of our happiness is derived from friendship, loving relationships, spirituality, health, and work fulfillment.”<sup>6</sup>

MINDFULNESS

Mindfulness is about practising a moment-to-moment awareness of thoughts, feelings, bodily sensations, and surrounding environment – with curiosity, and without judgement.<sup>7</sup> Mindfulness can be practiced through meditation, yoga, flow-states and daily activities such as cooking. Thousands of studies have proven benefits include reduced stress, reduced rumination, increased memory, increased cognitive function and physical health benefits through improved immunity.<sup>8</sup>
