

2025 Early Years Wellbeing Program

Why The Resilience Project?

Our Early Years Wellbeing Program is a tool for educators to support children in building their capacity to manage their wellbeing, now and in the future.

Designed by educators for educators, our Early Years Wellbeing Program inspires and engages the whole service community through the following components:

Digital Presentations & Staff PD

A suite of videos for children, professional development content for educators, and wellbeing webinars for educators and families.

Experiences & play based provocations

Fun, engaging activities and play based provocations accessed via a dedicated online hub and supported by individual children's portfolios.

Home & Service Connections

Our much loved Cozy Koala take home initiative and termly community projects to embed the GEM principles in your service culture.

Dedicated Partnership Manager

A dedicated educator to provide year-round assistance in supporting the implementation of the program in your service.

Having worked with 700+ early years services across Australia, our program uses our core evidence-based principles to build the foundation of positive mental health.

Funding

Our program is available on the Victorian School Readiness Funding Menu and an option for Kindy Uplift Funding in Queensland. We understand that services receive their funding at different stages throughout the year and so we do not require payment up front.

Cozy Koala Take Home Initiative

A much loved part of the program (by children and families), Cozy Koala is made from 100% recycled materials and is 100% huggable. When Cozy visits a home, families will engage in GEM experiences and children will have the opportunity to share their adventures with their peers.
